

The Monster Kid

by Francisco
Hermosillo

The monster

Once there was a boy named Jr.

Jr. was a mean boy
and got bad grades.

One day in a laboratory,
some scientist mixed
something very wierd

The scientist put the poison in a milk carton
When they went to school to teach a class. In the cafeteria, the poison
got mixed up with real milk.

The lady in the cafeteria gave Jr. the poison. When Jr. was eating he started to fight with a kid named Robey.

Jr. threw the milk at Robey. Jr. threw the milk to Robey and everyone laughed.

The principal
came and took Jr.

away.

At Robey's house

at midnight, Robey

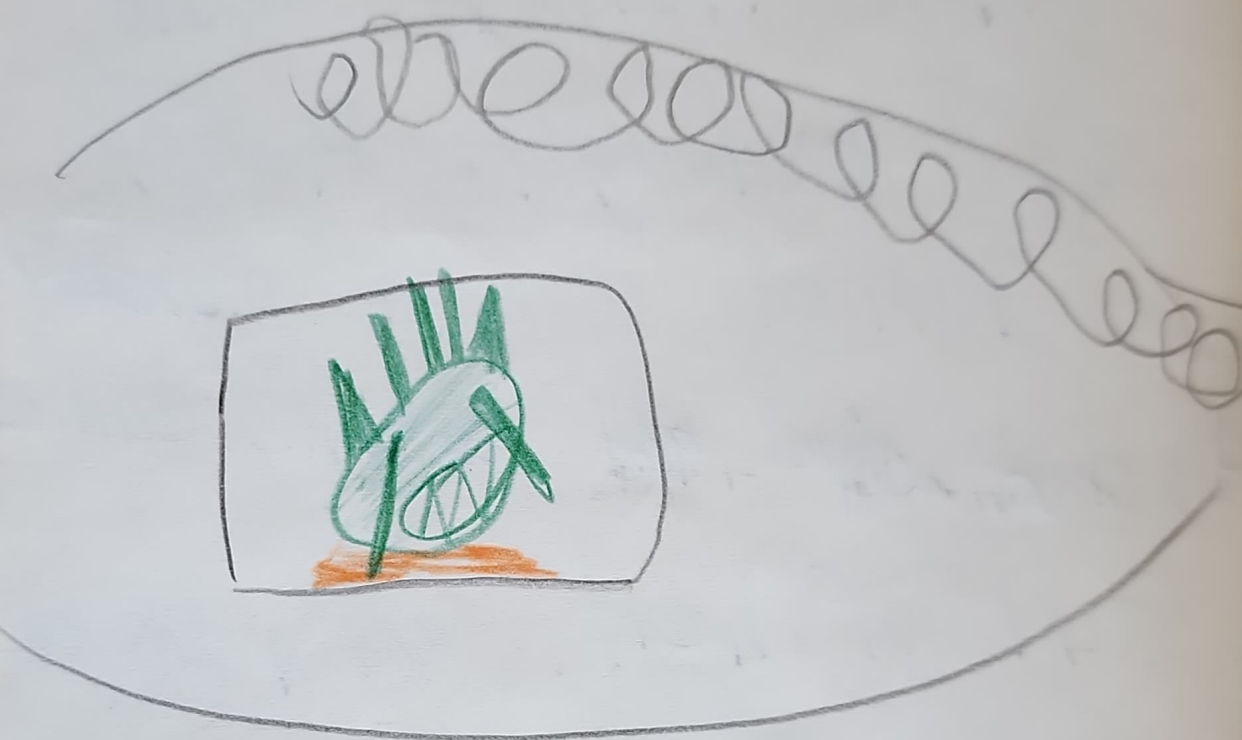

turned into a monster!

His shirt ripped and worms came out of his head, and a snake from each eye.

Robey went to Jr's
house and said, "Jr.
remember me?" Jr
jumped out the window and died.

When the scientist
was going home he was chased by the monster.
He ran for his life!
The scientist hid by some trashcans and ^{ran} fast.

The monster was still running but the monster didn't know he passed the scientist.

Then he tripped and fell in the ocean
filled with sharks.

A man-eating shark killed him. He turned back into Robey. A policeman found his body floating and told Robey's mother the bad news.

She got so sad and started to cry.

The End

1988

This is me

about the author

My name is Francisco Hermosillo. I am a third grade my favorite subject in school is Math and favorite game is basketball